Blanket Pay Increases For County Aides Banned

At its first caucus session on the 1942-43 salary ordinance, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon reached an agreement to refuse all pay blanket increases, Fred E. Beer, chairman of the board, said individual cases would be considered when presented by department heads.

The San Mateo County Employees Association has requested a 10 per cent increase for all paid less than $200 monthly. Dr. C. C. Gans, health and welfare director, proposed a 10 per cent pay increase for all employees in his department regardless of salary bracket. The county executive proposed a compromise "war bonus" arrangement for the lower salaried groups. All three proposals were barred by the supervisors. Individual cases will be considered on their merits, Beer declared.

Brazil is one of the richest countries in the world in potential hydraulic or water power, says the Department of Commerce.

War Bond Canvass Here To Start May 24; Everyone To Be Solicited

The house-to-house canvass in Redwood City and other California communities to secure pledges for regular purchase of war bonds and stamps will be held the week of May 24-30—"Remember Bataan Week"—W. V. Regan Jr. of the San Francisco office, war saving committee, told 330 persons attending Saturday night's benefit show in Sequoia High School Auditorium. It had originally been planned to have the drive late this month.

Regan's speech preceded the enjoyable entertainment session, which itself followed an outdoor concert by the Redwood City Municipal Band during which three organizations sold a total of $5001 worth of war stamps and bonds at outdoor tables.

The Commuters Club, by selling $2425 worth of bonds and $116.50 worth of stamps, won the $25 bond offered by the Redwood City War Savings Committee's executive board to the organization selling the most securities. The American Legion, Redwood City Post 105, sold $1350 worth of bonds and $54.55 worth of stamps; the Exchange Club, $1000 in bonds, $54.95 in stamps, according to reports made to Wrex W. Cruse, chairman of this phase of Saturday's event. Two other organizations which had planned to operate booths did not do so.

In telling of plans for the canvass here, Regan explained that every citizen would be asked to sign a pledge—"not a contract, but a moral obligation"—to "merely indicate to your government the amount you are willing to put into the war."

Emphasizing that stamps and bonds are securities that "can't be beaten any place on the face of the earth," Regan pointed out that citizens were not to be asked to make gifts, but merely to make investments, in order to finance the war.

He said that upon the amount of pledges obtained in a nationwide campaign would depend the amount of taxes Congress would have to levy to carry on the war.

REASONS FOR PURCHASES

Reasons for purchase of war securities, he re-emphasized, are (1) to provide the government with as many dollars as possible—"the enemy is doing an all-out job against us; our boys are doing an all-out job for us; the least we can do is an all-out job at home"; (2) to help prevent inflation by taking away from citizens surplus purchasing power; (3) to build up a reservoir of purchasing power for use during the post-war readjustment period; (4) to give everyone a chance to share directly in the war.

Regan took the occasion to laud warmly the work being done here by John W. Brand and his war savings committee. "Among 240 committees in Northern California," he said, "none exceeds Brand's committee in the thoroughness of its activity."

The program itself was warmly received. Although inclined to drag in spots, the entertainment was kept enlivened by chatter and witticisms on the part of Montgomery Mohn, radio actor who was master of ceremonies and himself put on several skits, one of them a "Man in the Flying Trapeze" number in which he was dressed in long underwear as tight.

The program was opened by the Sequoia High School Band, directed by Max L. Gelber, playing "Trumpets of Victory"; "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers"; and "There's Something About a Soldier."

The Sequoia Players, "Man in the Bowler Hat"—as "nonsensical" as it had been billed—followed brief speeches by Mayor

Harold F. Anderson, Chairman Brand and Regan, after which there were presented a tumbling act on the trampoline by Clyde Devine, Gene Bayne; accordion numbers of Eugene De Moss and Mary Louise Vessere, pupils of Armando Etiopi; clever and difficult dances by Barbara Jean Madrid, accompanied by Mrs. A. A. Childs; a "pseudo-ballet" by "Walton and Company"; a jitterbug special by the Johnson sisters; songs by the attractive and well-trained Redwood City Woman's Club Choral, "May Morning" and "After All, It's a Pretty Good World," directed by Mrs. J. Van Den Berg; solos by E. Harold Dana, former radio baritone, who played his own accompaniment as he sang several ballads, ending with the favorite, "The Road to Mandalay"; and an act that left virtually everyone in laughter, "Ed Howlett Entertainers."

Chairman Brand was assisted in putting on the show by W. B. Curran, who with Sequoia Band Director Gelber arranged the program; J. A. Buhler, who headed a committee on exchange of tickets; H. C. Mitchell, ticket sales, and others, including Brand's executive committee—Mrs. H. A. Clattenburg, Daniel O'Connell, Kenneth L. Bowen, James P. Hagan, J. Elmer Morrish and Carl E. Ward.

County Still In Running For School

San Mateo County is still in the running for the Maritime Academy at Coyote Point, it was learned Wednesday.

Supervisor Fred E. Beer said that recent inquiries indicated the project was very much alive and that the navy had taken it over.

"This brought in an entirely new group of men who had to familiarize themselves with the situation," Beer said. "I think we can expect action any day now."

The Coyote Point site, once on the verge of rejection by the U. S. Maritime Commission in favor of a vacant hotel on Clear Lake, is believed to have won more serious consideration from Coast Guard and navy officials.

The county first offered 10 acres of free land to cost about $12,000, and later raised the bid to around $30,000, including public utility installations. It was announced at the time that Burlingame and San Mateo were asked to contribute to the cost.

Stumbling block was lack of immediate housing facilities. The Maritime Commission insisted upon erection of temporary barracks for some 250 cadets. The county offered instead the Pacific Studios' quarters in San Mateo on a rental basis.

Supervisor Edward R. McDon-

old of Burlingame said that he understood latest inquiries about the Coyote Point project indicated that the navy would build barracks of its own, leading to the belief that the county's original offer of a free site is again receiving consideration.

Local NSGW Join Statewide Observance

Members of the Native Sons of the Golden West in Redwood City will join in the statewide observance of Native California Loyalty and Victory Month, as proclaimed by Grand Pres. Edward T. Schnarr of Oakland. The time set for the patriotic program is Apr. 13 to May 10.

Local Native Sons plan to mobilize for loyalty and victory along the line proposed in the proclamation of President Schnarr, William Byrd, president of the local Parlor, pointed out.

"The program calls for four weekly meetings," he added. "They will be devoted to the given to Unity, Civilian Participation, War Bonds and Stamps and honoring parlor members who are now serving in the armed forces."

Federal and state grants, care payments at Community Hospital, licenses, permits and fees.

Here's 'Cooking Story' But for Men Only

Science plays some funny tricks, so—

Colors are not only bright this year, but they're "cooked," too. The story goes like this: For years scientists have been faced with the problem of preparing colors for roofing or shingling that would not fade under severe weathering. Ordinary roofing, which consists of painted chips of rock, failed to retain its fresh coloring long enough to suit the scientists.

Recently it was discovered that bright colors could be fused into quartz granules under intense white heat which resulted in glistening colors that would not wear off or fade.

The heat under which this process takes place reaches 2250 degrees Fahrenheit, a degree of heat that would easily melt most metals, not to say anyone that might be holding the metal. In fact, the intensity of this heat is 6 times greater than that used by the housewife in the average cooking or baking.

Bruce M. Knox, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, states that this new type of roofing is being featured in the semi-annual Ward Week Sale.

"Our Bureau of Standards has put this roofing through some of the most exacting tests imaginable," said Knox. "And these tests show that roofing or shingling of this type will give satis-

Dedication Of Church Set

The Free Methodist Church at Elm and Heller Sts., Redwood City, purchased in 1938 and since rebuilt, will be dedicated Sunday as the highlight of a four-day district quarterly meeting expected to attract more than 100 out-of-town visitors.

The district, Rev. Lyle Brock explained, extends from San Francisco to Santa Cruz and includes Oakland. The district meeting will start tomorrow night, with evening services to and including Sunday.

A young people's rally will be held Saturday evening to hear an address by Rev. C. W. Monzingo of Los Angeles. Saturday afternoon there will be a junior rally.

Regular services will be conducted Sunday, with dedication of the church at 2:30 p.m.

Artists on Coming Benefit Concert Have Won High Praise

The two artists who will present the benefit Red Cross concert sponsored by the Redwood City Woman's Club at McKinley School Auditorium, Redwood City, Saturday night, Apr. 25, have won high praise in the papers of their home city, San Francisco, according to publicity folders describing the artists.

Of Reah Sadowski, pianist, the following comments have been written in San Francisco papers: "Some pianists are slaves of their technique; the better ones are its masters. Miss Reah Sadowski is one of the masters" (Examiner).

"Miss Sadowski possesses abundant energy and technical equipment of the most enviable order" (Chronicle).

"Her phrasing was logical, her harmonies sonorous and clean, and her interpretations complete in Bach tradition. . . . It was in the modern compositions that her brilliance of execution and flashes of genius were best revealed" (Call-Bulletin).

Of Lawrence Strauss, tenor "interpreter extraordinary," it has been written:

"Singing controlled by perfect taste, immaculate diction and rare poetic perception was the order of the evening when Lawrence Strauss gave a remarkable recital opening the fall season. . . . Strauss' understanding style, linguistic tradition, dramatic contrast, and the other essential qualities of the singer were beautifully reaffirmed" (Chronicle).

"Strauss sang with the cultured style and eager warmth for which he has long been admired. One reason for his success was that his listeners understood his every word" (Examiner).

"Strauss revealed a tenor organ of beauty and power . . . with a high range delivered without effort in dramatic effects and all under admirable control" (Weekly Argonaut).

"His enunciation is a delight. . . . Add to that a voice of velvety smoothness and caressing modulation, his pronounced flair for interpretation—for infusing the very intent of the words into a song—and you have some of the elements which go into the making of a Strauss recital" (Call-Bulletin).

In addition, Marjory Fisher, music editor of the San Francisco News, recently wrote in a letter regarding the coming concert: "Lawrence Strauss has no greater admirer and Reah Sadowski few greater admirers than I."

The two artists are giving of their services for the popularly-priced concert here so that the Red Cross War Fund may receive every cent of the 50-cent (plus 5 cents tax) admission charge. Tickets are on sale by members of the sponsoring Woman's Club, which is paying all incidental expenses of the concert.

The word Alaska is believed to be a corruption of a native term, Al-ay-ek-sa, meaning "The Great Land."

'Joint Custody' Decreed for Boy as Surprise Pact Ends Winter Divorce Case

The sensational Winter divorce case came to a sudden halt at 4 p.m. Monday when the principals accepted a compromise agreement whereby little 4-year-old George Godfrey Winter was placed in custody of his socialite mother, Barbara Rackett Winter of San Mateo, except for nine weeks in the year.

She waived all claims to alimony and property rights and accepted $20 a month for the boy's support. The interlocutory divorce decree was awarded to her as Merck Winter, one time high school football star, withdrew his sensational charges of adultery.

The agreement was reached after a 75-minute recess during which attorneys worked out the details of the settlement. After the case was closed, Charles Garry, attorney for Winter, handed to Francis N. Foley, attorney for Mrs. Winter, a photograph and a negative which were believed to have been factors in ending the trial. The picture, in support of Winter's allegations against his wife's conduct, was never introduced as evidence. Winter in his cross-complaint had charged that his wife had had an illicit love affair with a "tall, handsome Texas cowboy" at a San Benito County dude ranch. Judge Maurice T. Dooling Jr., called in to hear the case after Judge A. R. Cotton disqualified himself, approved the settlement and commended Winter for withdrawing his cross-complaint. Custody of little Godfrey is given "jointly" to the mother and father. She can keep him except (1) the father gets the boy a week during Christmas vacation, although the mother can have him Christmas day; (2) the father gets him for one week in the Spring, (3) one week in the Fall, and (4) six weeks during the Summer. During this six-week period, the father must take the boy to see his mother once every fortnight. When Mrs. Winter has the boy, the father may visit him once a week and take him out, under terms of the court's order. As a result of the sudden ending of the trial, Winter did not refute testimony given by Mrs. Winter and on her behalf, nor did he offer any against his estranged wife. Before Mrs. Winter had concluded her case, her attorneys had placed several witnesses on the stand. Mrs. Winter's mother, Clarisse R. Rackett of San Mateo, testified that Winter was morose; didn't take his wife to amusements; absented himself from home; was not friendly or cordial. She said her daughter after her marriage had changed from "a happy-go-lucky girl to a quiet, solemn little woman."

Catholic midshipmen at the Naval Academy, by special dispensation, are not required to abstain from meat on Fridays.

MENLO PARK NEWS

BY D. E. O'KEEFE

MENLO PARK—Much interest was shown in the election Tuesday. Out of 2097 registered voters, 909 voted at the three precincts.

Charles Oram received 657 votes; Charles Burgess, 544; W. F. Cutter, 570; Henry Carroll (incumbent), 474; Cecil Baxter, 392.

Surprise of the election was the defeat of Carroll, a veteran of eight years' service on the board. The new trustees will meet next Tuesday. Mr. Oram, having received the highest vote, will most likely be chosen chairman of the board. No changes in the various departments of the city government are anticipated, at least for the present.

The contract for a $10,000 store building that was to have been erected this year has been canceled because of the high cost of labor and material.

Work on the new service station for Menlo Park will be commenced on the first of the month.

Mrs. William Wilson, who was quite ill at Palo Alto Hospital, is recovering and will soon be home. Mrs. Wilson is a former resident of Menlo Park.

There is nothing to the rumor that there may be a new police judge appointed shortly. Edward J. Ryan has made a splendid official; he is fair, honest and able, and there is no reason for a change.

Because of increasing business at Bank of America, the building is being enlarged by taking in a portion of the Derry Feed and Fuel office adjoining. The bank has increased its business 50 per cent in the past year.

John McGill was married in

New York last week to Jane McCormick, a resident of that city. The young couple will make their home in Felton Gables. Mr. McGill is a commuter and has lived in Menlo Park several years.

(Endorsed) Filed Mar. 24, 1942 W. H. AUGUSTUS, Clerk. By ALMA PAGANINI, Deputy Clerk.

Neylan's Claim Against Fleishhacker Compromised

Compromise settlement of the claims of Atty. John Francis Neylan of Woodside against the bankrupt estate of Herbert Fleishhacker, former bank president and Atherton resident, was approved in San Francisco yesterday by Burton K. Wyman, referee in bankruptcy.

Other creditors, led by Atty.

John J. Redhead on behalf of Gertrude Brockhagen, protested the settlement and said they would appeal. Mrs. Brockhagen has a claim of $9500.

The settlement makes the estate liable for a maximum payment of $37,500 to Neylan. Anglo California National Bank, of which Fleishhacker once was president, agreed to pay the attorney another $37,500, in addition to $86,000 already paid. The bank also agreed to cancel all claims against the estate arising from the payment of attorney fees.

Neylan represented Fleishhacker in protracted litigation in the Lazard and other cases.

The compromise settlement was recommended by Sterling Carr, trustee of the estate, and by creditors representing a million dollars in claims.

Seven Cities Reach Goal for Blood Bank

Seven San Mateo County cities have reached their quotas in the San Mateo County Blood Bank campaign. Some other communities are over the half way mark.

Reported as having reached their goal are Brisbane, San Bruno, Pescadero, Colma, Belmont, Half Moon Bay and Mill-

YOUR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR
is VITAL these days

Food Preservation—Health Conservation

YES, INDEED, your refrigerator has important work to carry on today. Food vital to your health and your family's health is to a large degree perishable food that must be kept under dependable refrigeration.

Your Government specifies that good health requires a daily diet of six essential foods. These foods are dairy products, eggs, fruits, vegetables and cereals. Five of these foods need constant refrigeration to prevent loss of vitamin content and to prevent spoilage and waste.

If you now have a refrigerator that automatically keeps temperatures below 40 degrees—the safe food conservation zone—be sure you keep that refrigerator in fighting trim. Handle that refrigerator with care. Keep it in good repair. You are helping win the war when you save food and protect health with adequate, modern refrigeration.
